(Public Employer Labor Relations Associations)

DATE:

January 30, 2008

TIME:

1:00-1:45 Registration & Lunch
1:45-2:00 Chapter Announcements
2:00-4:00 Program

PLACE:

Middlesex Community College
Chapman Hall Rooms A-D
100 Training Hill Road
Middletown, CT

SPEAKER:

John Carpino, Federal Mediator
Federal Mediation & Conciliation Service

TOPIC:

“Collaborative Problem Solving in Labor Relations”

In keeping with a format used for other FMCS “best practices” training, Mr. Carpino’s presentation will involve everyone in a case study, so we can get a true appreciation of “Collaborative Problem Solving”.

FMCS

Federal Mediation & Conciliation Service

Who They Are: In 1947 the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service was created as an independent agency of the U.S. government. The agency is given the mission of preventing or minimizing the impact of labor-management disputes on the free flow of commerce by providing mediation, conciliation and voluntary arbitration.
